Top Ranked Colorado Construction Company Wins Office Project

Denver, CO -- October 11, 2006 -- dcb Construction Company, Inc. (dcb), a locally owned and operated construction company since 1960, was recently selected to build two 4,500 square foot masonry office buildings for R & S Plumbing, Inc. One building will serve as R & S Plumbing's new corporate headquarters and warehouse and the second building will be available for sale and/or lease. Construction on this Littleton project begins mid October, 2006 and is scheduled for completion April, 2007.

R & S Plumbing, Inc., a Colorado leader in new construction plumbing for the residential custom home and commercial markets, was founded by Robert Reindl in 1979 and employs a staff of 10 licensed professional plumbers. A third generation plumbing contractor and outdoor enthusiast, Reindl moved to Colorado in the mid '70's from Wisconsin.

"As a business owner, my first priority was locating a piece of land in an area of town that will see tremendous growth in the next decade. The Santa Fe corridor was my first choice," said Reindl, President and CEO. "And in today's economy, finding a smaller lot is even more challenging. The southwest corner of Belleview and Sante Fe is an ideal location for our new corporate headquarters and for any business owner looking for new Class A office space," Reindl concluded.

dcb, ranked the fifth largest design-build firm by McGraw-Hill's Colorado Construction, is a full-service building contractor engaged in the design and/or construction of build-to-suit commercial, industrial, office, retail, warehouse and distribution facilities for owners, users and developers across the Front Range. Services include negotiated, design-build, design-assist and select bid.
