Local Construction Company Awarded Retail Contract

Denver, CO -- June 24, 2005 -- dcb Construction Company, Inc., a locally owned and operated construction company since 1960, was recently selected to build a 10,000 square foot retail facility for Dallas based developer Worth Williams Properties, L.C. (WWP). Construction on this steel and masonry project broke ground in May 2005 and is scheduled for completion September 2005. This new retail facility, located in Longmont, Colorado, will house Big 5 Sporting Goods, a national chain of sporting good products based out of California.

WWP's President and Principal, Worth Williams, has over 24 years of experience in real estate brokerage, leasing and development. His company's focus is creating, developing and managing properties through a personal teamwork approach based on value engineering and integrity. "Our team's entrepreneurial spirit translates into a passion for improving the quality of life in communities across America," said Williams. Project developments include shopping centers, mixed-use, single tenant build-to-suits, residential lot and land developments and office projects.

A respected Colorado builder since 1960, dcb Construction Company, Inc. began concentrating on design-build projects from its inception and today is ranked one of Colorado's premier top ten design-build firms by Colorado Construction Magazine, April 2005. dcb is currently celebrating its 45th anniversary of providing general construction and design-build construction services throughout the state of Colorado.
